Report

The CASH Committee of GDC for Women organized an awareness lecture on the SHE Box under the guidance of the Principal of the college, Dr. Jaipal Singh.

Dr. Rachna, Convener of the committee, delivered an informative lecture highlighting the importance, need, and procedure for operating the SHE Box for students. She explained that the SHE Box is an online complaint platform for female students where they can register their grievances securely.

During the session, students were informed that the SHE Box is an important initiative to ensure a safe, secure, and respectful environment for women. It provides a confidential mechanism through which female students can raise issues related to harassment or misconduct without fear or hesitation. Dr. Rachna also encouraged students to speak up against any form of injustice and assured them that every complaint would be handled sensitively and confidentially.

She further explained the step-by-step process of filing complaints through the online portal and emphasized that the complaint box installed in the college premises can also be used for submitting grievances anonymously if needed. The lecture helped students understand their rights and the importance of creating an atmosphere of dignity and equality within the institution.

Members of the CASH Committee, including Dr. Amita Dua, Prof. Romika, Dr. Ambica, Dr. Mukesh, Dr. Satish, Dr Gurpreet and Dr. Vibha, were also present on the occasion.

Around 60 students participated enthusiastically in the programme.

REFUGEE MESSAGE BUREAU
KATHUA, MAY 11

The CASH Committee of Government Degree College for Women Kathua organized an awareness lecture on the SHE Box initiative under the guidance of Principal Dr. Jaipal Singh. The programme aimed to educate female students about their rights and the mechanism available for reporting grievances related to harassment or misconduct.

Dr. Rachna, Convener of the CASH Committee, delivered an informative lecture highlighting the importance, need, and procedure for operating the SHE Box. She explained that the SHE Box is an online complaint platform where female students can securely register their grievances in a confidential manner.

During the session, students were informed that the initiative plays a significant role in ensuring a safe, secure, and respectful environment for women within educational institutions. Dr. Rachna encouraged students to raise their voices against any form of injustice and assured them that all complaints would be handled sensitively and confidentially.

She also explained the step-by-step process for filing complaints through the online portal and informed students about the complaint box installed within the college premises, which can also be used to submit grievances anonymously if required. The lecture helped students understand their rights and emphasized the importance of maintaining dignity, equality, and mutual respect on campus.

Members of the CASH Committee, including Dr. Amita Dua, Prof. Romika, Dr. Ambica, Dr. Mukesh, Dr. Satish, Dr. Gurpreet and Dr. Vibha were also present on the occasion.
